

PHI BETA KAPPA HALL AT W. & M. IS ASSURED

Dr. Chandler Announces Society's Plan to Raise $100,000 for Project.

WILL SERVE AS MEMORIAL

To Contain Reproduction of Apollo Rooms in Raleigh Tavern, Where Fraternity Was Founded by Students in 1776.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]—The erection of a memorial hall in honor of the founders of the Phi Beta Kappa Society, announced by Dr. J. A. Chandler, president of the society, upon his return from Cleveland, where he attended the meeting of the fraternity's council, Dr. Chandler reported that the organization had decided to raise a large endowment fund of $100,000 of which is to go toward the purpose just indicated.

Reproduce Apollo Room. The memorial hall is to contain a reproduction of the famous Apollo Room, the chamber in the Raleigh Tavern in which the fifty students of William and Mary who became the founders of the great fraternity of scholars met for the first time in 1776. The hall is also to have a large auditorium and guest rooms for the comfort of Phi Beta Kappa visitors. Facilities will be dedicated to the founders, among whom were Chief Justice John Marshall, Supreme Court Justices of the United States, and other distinguished men.

Respect 600 Students. With a prospective attendance of 600, the College of William and Mary will open its 225th year with registration on Tuesday morning. In preparation for the next session and for the unprecedented enrollment, all buildings have been renovated and two temporary dormitories erected for the use of men students.

Following additions to the faculty have already made their appearance or will have done so when classes open: L. I. Shaulis, Albert P. K. Charles, M. E. E. in the school of economics; Robert M. Hamilton, University of Virginia, instructor in the English department; G. M. Patterson, M. A. George Washington University, instructor in the history department; Miss J. V. Cole, home economics; L. C. Lindley, chemistry; P. A. Warren, biology; A. F. Duffell, health; and Charles N. Fenderson, journalism, become members of the faculty during the summer session.

Offer Journalistic Course. An interesting departure, marking the beginning of the new session, is the offering of courses in journalism. These will be under the direction of Judge Charles N. Fenderson, who has been named as the first editor. While not classed as a graduate study, the work in journalism will seek to fit students for active newspaper service. William and Mary will be the only college in Virginia offering a rounded course in journalism with full time instruction.

AMUSEMENTS REACH AMHERST FOR FAIR

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]—AMHERST, Va., Sept. 17.—Amusements of various kinds which will furnish entertainment for the Amherst Fair, beginning Wednesday and continuing through Friday, are arriving daily.

All departments will be well filled this year and the agricultural and stock exhibits will be of a better quality than in previous years. This is also true of apples. In addition to the best plate of five prizes will be offered for the best grown in Amherst County, any variety.

The woman's department, which is in charge of Mrs. F. V. Scott, promises to be a well filled exhibit in domestic science and domestic art.

Wednesday will be "school day" and at this time special attention will be paid to the handwork of the schoolchildren.

Thursday will be "Farmers' Day" and at noon the grand stock parade will take place. There will also be contests in riding, driving and jumping.

The drawing card for Friday will be the grand tournament. A number of attractive prizes have been offered and between thirty and forty knights will compete. Riding will begin at 1 o'clock. The tournament committee is composed of L. H. Sherrick, chairman; C. A. Joubert, Floyd Knight, R. E. M. Beard, Joe Mastic and J. G. Parr.

Georgetown Starts Drive. WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Georgetown University, the oldest Catholic educational institution in the United States, today inaugurated a campaign for its first endowment since founded in 1823 years ago. A fund of $5,000,000 is to be raised. President John R. Creedy announced a plan to erect new buildings on the campus to house departments, which are now scattered throughout the city of Washington.

Name D. A. R. Delegates. LYNCHBURG, Va., Sept. 17.—Blue Ridge Chapter, D. A. R., has elected the following delegates to the State convention at Yorktown, October 11-12: Miss Ruth Early, Mrs. Don E. Halsey, Mrs. J. D. Hobbie, Miss Ella Miller. The alternates are: Mrs. D. C. C. Jackson, Mrs. W. C. Goetz, Mrs. Elias Richards, Mrs. J. R. Miller, Mrs. A. T. Henderson, Mrs. E. C. Ivey, Mrs. D. H. Howard and Mrs. H. L. Campbell.

Two Years for Bootlegging. LYNCHBURG, Va., Sept. 18.—Andrew Tanner, convicted in the Circuit Court during last week of bootlegging, was given a two-year term Saturday evening on the charge of shooting up a county officer's posse in July. Tanner was with Otis Lawson when the latter was mortally wounded in a battle with officers attempting to capture an automobile laden with 100 gallons of liquor.

Motor Fails Near Raleigh. RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 17.—A brilliant motor, with a tail resembling sparks of fire, was seen falling from the sky in a northerly direction here at 11:40 o'clock today. The bolide, which had the appearance of a small fire, was not as large as the one observed here several months ago.

BILLY SUNDAY STARTS DRIVE FOR CONVERTS IN LYNCHBURG

Noted Evangelist Is Heard by 20,000 Persons at First Day's Sermons—Entertained by Rotary Club. Warehouse Turned Into Tabernacle.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]—LYNCHBURG, Va., Sept. 17.—Rev. William A. Sunday began his fall and winter campaign here Sunday when 20,000 people turned out to hear him in his initial sermon. The local campaign is to last six weeks, the engagement ending here October 22, and seven days later he opens in Dayton, Ohio, his manager, Fred W. Rapp, already having left here to start preliminary work in the Ohio city.

Mr. Sunday's fall and winter campaign will include four stands of six weeks and one of two, for he goes from Dayton, Ohio, to Columbus, S. C., then to Knoxville and Louisville, Ky., winding up in the late spring with a two-week stay at Charleston, W. Va., where he finished his work last spring.

Times Back to Charleston. It is pointed out here that it is unusual for a man after his first campaign as soon after his first campaign as he will do at Charleston, but it is so because that his time here is so short that he must give that city the first time in 1922. The hall is also to have a large auditorium and guest rooms for the comfort of Phi Beta Kappa visitors.

According to the Sunday party arrangements for the campaign here are as follows: The tabernacle may not be quite as large as the crowds will seem to demand before the campaign is on long. A tobacco warehouse has been transformed into a tabernacle, with seating for 5,000 people, with additional facilities on the platform for 500 people, which will include singers and other entertainers.

Two choruses of 500 members each, have been formed and these will sing at alternate services. The other organization includes 500 vocalists, 500 instrumentalists and 300 personal workers.

Evangelist Party Entertained. It is expected that the first call for the people to hit the sawdust trail will come at the Sunday party.

COURT MAY HEAR CASE OF MENACED OFFICERS

Pittsylvania Grand Jury May Investigate Threatening Detectives.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]—DANVILLE, Va., Sept. 17.—The Pittsylvania Circuit Court grand jury will convene tomorrow and will, it is reliably understood, be charged with an investigation of the recent episode which took place at Gretna, where private detectives are said to have been threatened in open court after appearing against Ollie Rambo, a local and prominent citizen charged with violating the State liquor law. It is anticipated that a thorough inquiry will be made into the circumstances surrounding the case.

Another matter to be looked into is the shooting by State officers at an automobile which was carrying liquor. It was presumed to be the case of eleven shots were put in the car. The officers expect to have the man indicted, while the man, who has declined to counsel here and who has declined to appear before the grand jury as a witness, is expected to appear before the grand jury as a witness.

One of the most important cases to be tried at the court is that of M. L. Howard, a Chattanooga, Tenn. school pupil, who was mysteriously shot through the body after being deputized to arrest an alleged liquor vendor. Three men are under indictment for the offense. Howard is from Pittsburgh, Pa., and made what physicians consider a remarkable recovery from his wound.

Expect Thirty More Indictments. [By United News.]—MARIION, Ill., Sept. 17.—Indictments of thirty more persons, bringing to eighty-eight the total number indicted by the grand jury investigating the Herrin mine massacre, are expected this week, during which the grand jury is expected to conclude its sessions.

Mine Kills Eight Irish Nationals. [By United News.]—DUBLIN, Sept. 17.—Eight Free State soldiers were killed by a mine buried on the road from Maroon to Ballyvaughan. They attempted to lift the mine and it exploded in their hands, tearing their bodies into fragments. Colonel Keighly, one of the leaders of the Free State army, was among the victims.

Wooding Family Holds Reunion. FANX, Sept. 17.—A reunion of the Wooding family took place today at the home of Robert Wooding at Chalk Level. A large number of this widely scattered family were in evidence, Mayor Harry Wooding and his son attending.

Petersburg Trunk Maker Found by Tracks With Skull Fractured.

PETERSBURG, Va., Sept. 17.—John E. Belcher, white, a trunk maker, residing on Commerce Street, was found in an unconscious condition alongside the Norfolk and Western Railroad tracks this morning about 6 o'clock.

While here Mr. Sunday and "Mac" Sunday are guests at the Virginia Hotel, this being a departure from his routine, for usually a furnished residence is placed at his disposal for these campaigns.

It is announced that the Billy Sunday Club, Charlottesville, Va., is planning to run a special train here to take 300 or more residents of that city to the Sunday evening meeting.

Rural People Numerous. The meetings are attracting large crowds of people from the country districts, hundreds coming early for the services, and parking around the tabernacle is at a premium some hours before the locally owned cars begin to arrive.

The hours for the services are 2:30 and 7:30, each week-day, excepting Monday, and 10:30, 2:30 and 7:30 Sunday.

Rev. Dr. Samuel T. Senter, pastor of Court Street Methodist, is chairman of the local directors in charge of the campaign. Twenty-seven local white Protestant churches are co-operating in the meeting.

Reports forecast exceptionally good agricultural and manufacturing exhibits and of good, clean amusements. The management has secured for its midway one of the largest carnival companies coming into this State, the "World at Home Shows," which covers in this season's circuit Staunton, Cincinnati, Roanoke, Lynchburg and Greensboro, N. C.

The committee, of which H. A. Ford is chairman, has sent out urgent invitations to over 2,000 former citizens of Henry County to return to their home county for fair week.

The honorary vice-presidents were guests of honor at the occasion, and quite a number of them, including W. R. West, David Lindsay, J. R. Smith, W. R. Egan, L. L. Mitchell, Mrs. J. M. Barker and Mrs. W. W. Kellogg, expressed in no uncertain tones their determination to be "more enthusiastic than we dreamed we could be" in boosting "our" fair.

CALLS DE VALERA MENACE IN IRELAND

[By Associated Press.]—NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The Most Reverend Michael J. Curley, archbishop of Baltimore, declared on his return from Europe today on the Celtic that the American work of American principles should be one of momentous importance.

"They are bent on destruction and the bringing about of chaos in Ireland," the archbishop said, referring to De Valera and his followers. "They have no constructive program and can have none, because they, as a small minority, are fighting the Irish people. They are killing, burning and wrecking Ireland as far as they can."

"There is no menace in Ireland today greater than the menace of De Valera who seems to have completely lost his head, lost his senses. The people of Ireland are suffering at the hands of De Valera's followers as much as they suffered at the hands of the Black and Tans."

CONGRESS CRITICIZED BY FEDERAL JUDGE

[By Associated Press.]—WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., Sept. 17.—Federal Judge James E. Boyd, of the Western North Carolina District Court, in addressing a large audience here, this afternoon, criticized the action of Congress in passing the Internal Revenue Act of 1921.

"The act," he declared, "is a violation of the right to life, liberty and property, and is a violation of the Constitution of the United States. It is a violation of the right to life, liberty and property, and is a violation of the Constitution of the United States."

FIFTY-FIVE CANDIDATES OUT AT HAMPDEN-SIDNEY

Coach Roundy Faces Big Task With Death Valley Squad.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]—HAMPDEN-SIDNEY, Va., Sept. 17.—With fifty-five candidates out for practice each afternoon, Coach E. C. Roundy finds his hands full when it comes to directing his proteges in football tactics.

Yesterday afternoon, for the first time, Coach Roundy had his men at work tackling the dummy. Besides this, the linemen were put through an hour's drill in blocking and blocking. The line material is such that the defense of the coming eleven will be greatly strengthened. The line, no doubt, will average fifteen or twenty pounds over the line of 1921.

Since the opening of school several new men of likely looking ability have been added to the squad. Part of the championship Blackstone Military Academy last year, and Smith, of Randolph-Macon Academy, are two of these youngsters and they are trying for the positions of end and backfield, respectively.

ST. ANNE'S SCHOOL OPENS TOMORROW. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.]—CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Sept. 17.—St. Anne's School for Girls, which has become a fixed institution in the educational life of the community, will open its thirty-third session today. The school has already taken its place as an outstanding institution in the chain of sister-schools established and operated by the Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Virginia, and is being looked to as a guiding model of the high-class seminaries it is intended to operate under church influence.

Members of the faculty include: Miss Elizabeth E. Winegar, of John R. Stetson University; Miss H. R. G. Pendleton, of Johns Hopkins; Miss Mary Lee Tabb, of Columbia; Miss Cecile Bolton, of Bryn Mawr; Miss Frances Artz, a graduate of the Lycée of St. Genevieve's College; Miss Prudence Rabon, of Winthrop College; Miss Phyllis Freeman, of Holy Cross; Miss Clara B. Rieder, of Peabody Institute, Baltimore; and Mrs. T. J. Randolph, of the Maryland Institute of Fine Arts.

WILL PROPOSE NEW NATIONAL ANTHEM. [By United News.]—ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 17.—A proposed new national anthem will be introduced at the second annual convention of the Military Order of the World War when members convene here Monday. The order is composed of American and allied officers.

Lieutenant Charles W. Rodgers, of Boston, wrote the new anthem, entitled, "O America, Our Nation," which those who sponsor it hope will take the place of "The Star Spangled Banner."

SPORTSMEN ORGANIZE A DUCK-HUNTING CLUB

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]—FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Sept. 17.—A number of sportsmen of Fredericksburg have organized a club to be known as the Aquia Duck Club, and have leased a modern clubhouse and site at the mouth of Aquia Creek, where it enters the Potomac River.

A longhouse and the shore-line of the long point bounded by Aquia Creek and the Potomac River on the Thorough Point Farm have been leased. The construction of the blinds will begin at once and sink boxes, deers and other paraphernalia for duck shooting will be installed by the club. The longhouse is comfortable and fitted with electric lights and other improvements. An artesian well supplies water for the pump and several boats are kept at the beach. Besides ducking, excellent fishing is afforded. John W. Alton is president of the club, and Franklin Stearns secretary and treasurer. Other charter members of the club are: J. C. Howard, W. D. Carter, L. G. Roach, Dr. C. Mason Smith, Joseph M. Goldsmith, F. L. Green, W. F. McColl.

TENDLER AND MORAN TO OPEN ACTIVE WEEK. NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The switch from the open stretches of the outdoors to the warmth of the indoor boxing arenas will officially take place this week, but with weather such as has been the lot of the Metropolitan district the change-over period may be prolonged somewhat. At any rate, there is no prospect of a lull in boxing.

The Tandler-Moran bout at the Velodrome will start the week of tomorrow, while on Tuesday Dave Rosenberg and Mike O'Dowd will perform at Ebbets Field. Italian Joe Gans and Nips Siegel are the headliners at the Pioneer A. C.

Probably the most historic battling ground in the country—Madison Square Garden—will swing into action this Thursday evening when Joe Lynch will oppose Jack Wolfe of Cleveland, in the feature bout. Wolfe has shown himself to be all that the name implies in his battles against Frankie Jerome, over whom he holds a decision as the result of their last bout.

Coaches Divide Work. Practice last week consisted of drills in the foundations of foot ball, running, passing, catching and general exercises. Work with the dummy began Thursday. Coach Campbell has been working with the backfield men, while Coach Abel takes the line, the ends being taken by first one coach and then the other. Regular work with the first-year team will begin on Monday.

A list of those who have reported for practice includes the following: Centers—Thesmar, captain, 1921 freshman; Hunt, Hand, Kinsler, Manser and Smith.

Guards—Captain Hall and Ward, "V" men; Otto, 200-pounder and Ag. Venn, 200-pounder as Florida in 1920; Hennessey, who played in several games last year; Coker, Doty, Deyer, Nagel, Rivers and Wilson.

Tackles—Blackford and Fenwick, "V" men; Cook, Cutchin, Gill, Minor, Haney, Ryan, Rutledge, Sheer, Weaver and Winston.

Ends—Davis, "V" man; Blackwell, Bonker, Brown, Crump, Detrick, Dwyer, Ely, Geyer, Holland, Lewis, Meek, Osborn and Walker.

Quarters—Foster, "V" man; Cameron, Dunlop, McCoy and McCord.

Half backs—Arnold, Walp and Little, all good men who played in 1921; Deane, who might have made varsity last year but for injuries; Ely, Gibson, Jamison, Hammer, Ingram, McGowan, Ruffin, Taylor,
